Post Office Reports Sales And New Jobs

Business at the Post Office not only has been good but has shown a marked increase compared to the same period last year, according to this week's report by Assistant Postmaster Arthur H. Embree.

"At the peak of the Christmas mailing we were handling about 4000 letters per hour in our out-going section," Embree says. "We also had a 10 per cent increase in the mailing of cards and letters over the same period last year, along with the extra business we experienced in the dispatch of and receipt of parcel post."

Some of the most popular products were three-cent stamps which have jumped in sales compared to the two-centers.

Also in Embree's report there is an indication that there may be some job openings at the Post Office during the current year other than the position that is already waiting.

"The Civil Service examination for Clerk-Carrier now is open at this office," Embree reports, "and we suggest that anyone interested in the Post Office as a career investigate the many advantages in the work."

Among the advantages he lists annual paid vacations, paid sick leave, and a "very liberal life insurance program with the government assuming part of the cost."

During December some of the local postal clerks worked 14 to 18 hours a day. This, plus the cooperation of the carriers, enabled the Post Office department to deliver all mail in the office before Christmas.

All employees in the department have expressed their appreciation for the customers' courtesies given them throughout the year.

Red Cross Disaster Group Reported Alive

The Sierra Madre Red Cross Disaster Committee consists of approximately 150 volunteers, according to Col. Charles E. Morrison, chairman for the committee.

Col. Morrison says that many inquiries have been received by members of last year's organization as to whether they are still considered to be active. Their questions arise from the fact that they have not been asked to attend any meetings lately.

Col. Morrison reports that every one of the volunteers should be assured that they still are members of the organization and would be expected to act in case of any local emergency such as the big fire one year ago.

Anti-Polio Ball To Be Staged Here Jan. 29

"Let's dance so that others may walk," will be the theme for an Anti-Polio Ball to be held in Sierra Madre Saturday night, Jan. 29, according to Mrs. Julius Hammerschmitt, local "March of Dimes" campaign chairman. Location for the party has not yet been determined, but will be announced at a later date.

"We will not be sure until next week just where the dance will be staged," Mrs. Hammerschmitt says, "but everyone

School Mothers Plan Supper For First 1955 PTA Meeting

The first PTA meeting in 1955 will be held Jan. 20, one week from today, beginning at 6:30 p.m. with a pot-luck supper in the City school cafeteria, 141 W. Highland. The food will be served by all the school mothers under the supervision of the room mothers.

During the supper there will be music appropriate to the program planned by the International Relations committee, with co-chairmen of the committee, Mr. and Mrs. A. Lincoln Pittinger, acting in cooperation with Mr. and Mrs. Frazer Dougerty, program chairmen. The music will be furnished by sixth grade students under the leadership of Mrs. Mathilda Smith.

Following dinner, the meeting will move into the auditorium where a panel of five foreign students from Pasadena City college will address the group. Each student will tell about education in his own country. There will be representatives from Japan, Italy, Ecuador, Iran and Germany. At the conclusion of these talks the meeting will be open for questions and general discussion.

Reservations for the supper must be in by Monday, Jan. 17. The PTA newspaper, Sierra Scope, will be distributed to the school children Friday, Jan. 14. On one page of this paper there will be a reservation ticket to be clipped, filled out and returned to the school on Monday.

Anyone who does not get his copy of the newsletter, or who neglects to return the ticket, may call his child's room mother and make his reservation by telephone. However, no reservations will be accepted after Monday, Jan. 17.

Councilman Pratt and Joe Doakes Tackle TV

By SEWALL CLARK

So far as the City of Sierra Madre is concerned, television is a headache. At least, legally speaking, when the TV signal waves become involved with the problems and questions of installing master antenna systems, crossing public streets with overhead wire-stringing, and just plain money-then the members of City Council might well wish they were living in the days of early radio and crystal sets.

Some people might ask why the city government should become involved in the TV subject in the first place. Why not let Joe Doakes buy a television set, put up his own aerial, and let it go at that?

For all City Council cares Joe is free to buy as many TV sets as he wishes—and good luck to him. But when he becomes involved in community aerials and overhead wire stringings that break the law then that's a different matter. Also, when Joe starts twirling the dials and gets nothing but static and "snow," he is apt to come running with the plaintive question: "Why don't you guys do something?"

So City Council, for more than two years, has been "trying to do something." So have various television dealers, who, one by one, have dropped out along the complicated way, either because of legalities or lack of profits. All the while, dear old Joe is twirling his dials and going quietly crazy because of TV "ghosts," jumpy images, and spots before his eyes.

Worst of it is, Mr. Doakes has a neighbor who has bought an inexpensive television set, thrown a small aerial into a tree, and gets every station in the book as clearly as if he were watching a motion picture from the loge seats. But Joe, who has erected six aerials halfway to the stars at tremendous cost, gets nothing but San Diego on a rainy day.

In fact, the many problems of television here, freakish and otherwise, are so serious in some cases that real estate men say they have lost certain sales because prospective clients have learned that the area in question was without good television reception. TV entertainment, in other words, has become a factor in people's lives on a far greater scale than might be realized by the casual observer.

To give a detailed history of the developments on this subject within the past two years would require a book-length manuscript, part of which would sound like a blood-and-dagger dime novel.

Television dealers, not only here but from all corners of the general vicinity, have romped through Sierra Madre making TV-reception tests followed by reports to City Council telling why they were just the ones to solve everything. But in the meantime there's still old Joe with nothing but "snow"—and he's yelling louder all the time.

For a while, it looked as if Ed Meyer, local TV dealer, had the answer—and there are a lot of people in Sierra Madre who still think he does. He was the one who, by providing a reception system to "black-out" residents here, brought the local TV subject to a head by installing a master antenna system for an installation fee plus a monthly charge.

Trouble was, among other things, that Meyer's work sometimes required "wire-stringing" which City Council declared was illegal. Most of Meyer's customers seemed to be satisfied, but the law is the law—and City Council was still working on behalf of all Sierra Madreans by looking to the future.

According to Lorne Pratt, city councilman who has decided to make this subject his special project, "due to the necessity of crossing public streets with wire-system it was mandatory to apply to the city for a license. The city could not issue Meyer a license until specifications were drawn."

"But after the specifications were printed no firm would bid on the first set, except a company which had no television experience. The reason, after much checking, was twofold — and the first of these reasons is by far the most important."

"I. Eighty per cent of the antenna systems in operation in California have either gone broken or are losing money rapidly."

"2. There is a strong possibility within three to five years that a combination of stronger stations and booster towers will do away with the necessity of reception systems; hence the lack of bidders."

With all this, and more too, Sierra Madre finally asked for open bids to bring in that reception system that Joe Doakes was crying for. Joe, by this time, was forced to cultivate his neighbor's acquaintance whenever he wanted to see that "Big Event" on TV, and this was almost as bad as not having television because Joe wanted to relax in his own home without having to make polite conversation during the most exciting part of the program.

Through the open bids, negotiations were made with a Hollywood firm which, after much "wheeling and dealing," submitted a proposal stating that an all-channel reception system would cost about $140,000 and that the firm would require at least 600 subscribers at $150 installation fees plus $5 monthly before it would even think of installing the system.

"With that background," as Councilman Pratt says, paraphrasing a TV star, George Gobel, "here we are and there they are—and we have nothing."

So it appears that if Sierra Madre residents expect someone from out of the city to come in and wave a magic wand to get them better TV reception they will wait a long time and perhaps forever. And Joe Doakes doesn't like that idea. Joe claims that television is more than entertainment. He says he has seen certain programs via the neighbor's set that are downright educational. Whatever the case, he's tired

Community Nursery School to Show Parents Child Psychology Film Produced by Vassar

"Meeting Children's Emotional Needs," will be the subject of a film shown at the Sierra Madre Community Nursery School Tuesday, Jan. 18, beginning at 8:30 p.m. This film made by Vassar College gives help to parents in understanding the emotional problems of their children. A panel of parents and teachers will discuss and evaluate the film.

After the discussion the audience will have another opportunity to view the Nursery School's own film, done in color by Frank De Virgilio, one of the school's fathers.

Following the meeting refreshments will be served by Mrs. Lewis Lampl and her committee, and parents and others will have a chance to visit. Hostesses for the evening will be: Group I, Mrs. John Arnett and Mrs. Thomas Ames; Group II, Mrs. Al Foxton and Mrs. John Nelson; Group III, Mrs. Edward Butterworth and Mrs. William Marzov.

This meeting is part of the Adult Education program of Pasadena City College. The public is invited.

A business meeting of the Association will be held at 8 p.m. before showing of the films.

Off-Street Parking Slowed By New Appraisal Problems

Parking Subject at Council Followed by Firemen's Gift

City Council last Tuesday evening broke the sad news to individual property owners and merchants in general who are interested in off-street parking to the effect that the downtown properties representing the potential and much needed parking spaces have been overpriced in the judgment of Herbert B. Pratt, certified appraiser from the California Appraisal Service.

So it is that the off-street parking problem, debated here for many years, has become involved with one more complication that shows indications of slowing down the process that must be endured before the long overdue parking facilities can be established for the benefit of merchant and shopper alike.

Appraiser Pratt's total evaluation of the three properties in question amounts to $40,300 as compared to the asking prices which add to a total of $54,000. The three properties described in Pratt's report are as follows:

The William Peters property, measuring 100 by 130 feet behind City Hall, appraised at $10,000 against an asking price of $16,500; the lot belonging to the Pacific Electric Co., 85 feet on Baldwin Ave. and 150 feet deep along Montecito Ave., appraised at $12,800 against the asking price of $19,500; and Dr. John L. Woehler's property at the corner of Suffolk and South Baldwin, 100 feet on South Baldwin, 145 feet on the north line of Suffolk and 150 feet on the south line of same, appraised at $17,500 compared to the asking price of $18,000. On the Pacific Electric lot is a building which the company values at $2500.

In accordance with recommendations from City Administrator Lawrence Bevington and City Attorney Guy Cornyn the Council will proceed with negotiations on the basis of the appraisals received. If these fail, condemnation proceedings may be begun to obtain the three pieces of land at a price in closer conformity to the appraised values.

Volunteer Firemen Donate
City Council also disclosed that the Volunteer Firemen of Sierra Madre are giving money to the city for the purchase of more fire fighting equipment. The money represents the gifts of appreciation they received from Sierra Madreans last year because of the volunteers' fine work in fighting the mountain fire that threatened the town during the Yuletide season of 1954.

At a cost of $425 the Volunteer Firemen are purchasing portable electric lighting equipment that can be removed from the new fire truck now being built for the city. The new lighting equipment will aid the firefighters when traveling through the smoke of burning homes or brush fires.

The money given in tribute to the firemen was theirs "for keeps," to use as they wished and it was thought perhaps they would spend it to give a party or buy a television set. Instead, they are investing in the new equipment which they are presenting to the city.

All council members highly commended their generous and loyal spirit of "service beyond the call of duty" demonstrated by these men.

Car Licenses Deadline Set At February 4

The Department of Motor Vehicles would like to remind Sierra Madre motorists that the annual renewal of vehicle registrations is due for 1955 on or before Friday, Feb. 4. The latest service may be obtained by submitting fees with the prepared statement mailed to owners from Sacramento in December.

Persons who do not receive a mailed reminder are nevertheless responsible for renewal of their registrations, and are advised to submit their fees with the 1954 white registration slip.

The new prepared statements issued by the Department for the first time this year to 5,000,000 auto owners, after two years of testing with 1,000,000 truck and trailer registrations, contain data describing the vehicle and identifying the owner. A stub at the right end of the card must be filled with the owner's name and address, legibly printed or typed, before presenting at a Motor Vehicle office. The cards should not be folded or stapled, as they are used for machine tabulations.

The stub, after payment of fees, is returned to the motorist for display in the vehicle, and a single 1955 tab is issued for attachment to the rear plate.

"The service charge on a monthly basis would probably be $5 per month initially to cover labor, servicing, depreciation, bookkeeping, and license fees. After a year's operation any funds accrued would again be used as a credit."

"The corporation would be managed by local citizens and be a local operation. This seems to me to be the only method whereby the financial requirements and specifications of the city can be met and whereby we can obtain a TV reception system for Sierra Madre."

"I believe Ed Meyer has proven his ability to service and install such a system through his past experience. The fact that the fire last year caused a disturbance of the system can in no way be a reflection on Meyer's work."

"I also believe, and will soon know the answer by questionaire, that the majority of people interested in television under present circumstances will be satisfied with the reception of four or five of the present seven channels, which seems to be the maximum that can be guaranteed."

Council Pratt is the first to say that his suggestions so far represent only a rough draft of the situation, but at least Joe Doakes can know that someone here is trying to help him.

Permits Value Total $20,100 For December

Building permits issued last month by the office of William R. Lees, Sierra Madre's building inspector, amounted to a total valuation of $20,100 as compared to the December total in 1953 which reached to a higher figure of $37,300.

One dwelling unit, valued at $11,000, was the only new residence listed among the figures for December, 1954, whereas three new homes planned for construction were included in the building evaluations for December, 1953, amounting to $23,000.

The detailed account on Inspector Lees' list of permits is as follows:

To Carl Griffin, 259 Sturtevant Drive, a triple garage at 247 Sturtevant Drive, $800; G. G. Hoffman, 44 Vista Circle Drive, a new car port, $300; —Turn to Page 5, Sec. 1

Campfire News

The Sierra Madre Camp Fire Leaders' Association met for its first meeting of the new year at the home of Mrs. William Harris, 645 N. Auburn, Thursday morning, Jan. 6. Mrs. Severin Sorenson, leader president during 1954, led the brief installation of the new officers, turning over her gavel to Mrs. Helmut Vorster. Other new officers installed were Mrs. Charles Abbe, vice-president; Mrs. Robert Fredericks, secretary; and Mrs. William Waite, treasurer. Outgoing officers were Vice-President Mrs. Robert Benson, Secretary Mrs. William Harris and Treasurer Mrs. Marcus Woodward. Also introduced was the new publicity chairman, Mrs. Terry Tidmore, who

Mrs. Harold Jano, representative from the Area office, talked briefly on Camp Fire's new "Birthdays Project" for the coming year. "Let Freedom Ring," the theme of which will be used throughout this year, not only by the girls in passing rank, but at the various public functions held by Camp Fire girls during the year. The first of these events is planned for late February, the annual Father-Daughter banquet.

An invitation from the Sierra Madre Camp Fire Board was extended to all leaders and their families to attend a potluck picnic on Sunday, Jan. 9, at Camp Chiquita's beautiful lodge in the foothills above Pasadena.

The meeting closed with the presentation of a surprise gift to outgoing President Mrs. Sorenson from all of the leaders.

NOW it can be told! The secret of the Busy Little Bluebirds Christmas party was to surprise each of the parents by carolling at each home. Afterwards the girls met at the home of Bettina Raphael for the party given by Mrs. Raphael and Mrs. Brunning. Leaders Mrs. Robert Fredericks and Mrs. William Rode were the special guests. Members attending, all third graders from Sierra Madre school, were Gail Bruning, Vicki Dunnagan, Shirley Emery, Joan Frederick, Car-

Music Contest Open to Local Teen-Age Set

The San Gabriel Valley Symphony association announces its annual Young Artist Contest, winners of which will appear as soloists with the orchestra at the March 20 concert.

Any music student in Sierra Madre is eligible who will not have reached his or her 20th birthday on March 20, 1955, or any student who is a member of the San Gabriel Valley Symphony or the San Gabriel Valley Junior Symphony, who has not previously been an audition winner in the same classification.

One classification is for students of 16 and above; another for those in their teens below 16. Harold Scott, conductor of the orchestra, will audition applicants not yet in their teens. If acceptable, they may then enter the general auditions. For any such who are not final winners but who demonstrate outstanding ability, an attempt will be made to arrange a performance with the Junior Symphony without disqualifying the student from future auditions.

Classifications include: violin, viola, piano, cello, string bass, woodwind, horn, trumpet, duo-piano, duo-violin, male voice, female voice, conductor and ensemble. One contestant (if worthy) from each classification will appear with the orchestra at the March 20 concert. If, in the opinion of the judges, there is no winner in a certain classification, that classification will not be represented.

Any standard aria, concerto movement, or other suitable work for which orchestral accompaniment is available, may be performed, not to exceed 15 minutes. The Finale of the Tchaikowsky Symphony No. 5 is the required composition for student conductors. Ensembles will not need orchestral accompaniment.

Judging will be done by representative musicians and music educators in the area. All contestants and compositions must be approved by the conductor of the orchestra.

Application blanks and further information may be obtained by writing the San Gabriel Valley Symphony Association, Box 812, Arcadia, or Harold Scott, Monrovia-Duarte High school. All applications sent in must be postmarked not later than midnight, Feb. 1, 1955.

"From MAINE TO CALIFORNIA"

The boys are scattered hither and yon in college these days and their minds are filled with thoughts of faculty, football and fraternity. How long has it been since your boy last called home? Why not arrange to have him telephone regularly collect? He will call more often if he can save his own allowance for that big Saturday night date.

Even though he may be studying geology at Georgia, or history at Harvard, or medicine at Minnesota, news from home is always a prime interest. A low-cost phone talk once a week can cover all the news—from the score of Saturday's game to his grade on his latest examination. And a three-minute conversation instead of a thirty-minute letter will give your boy more time for his books, too.

(A coast to coast, three-minute conversation costs only $2.50, plus tax, and is even less expensive with special night and Sunday rates.)

Camellia Gardens to Open at Huntington

Saturday, Jan. 15, marks the reopening to the public of the famous camellia gardens at the Huntington Library for the 1955 blooming season. Blossoms are already appearing on some of the thousand varieties of plants which cover the five-acre hillside, and others will follow in greater profusion as the season advances.

Hours are from 1 to 4:30 every day except Mondays. Reservations are no longer necessary, except for large groups.

Drinkwater Released From Polio Hospital

The new year started happily for Edwin L. Drinkwater, 482 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., when he was released from the Sister Kenny Polio Hospital in El Monte. Drinkwater, husband of Mrs. LaVergne Drinkwater, had been undergoing treatments for poliomyelitis at the hospital for two months.

"Children are not the only victims of dread polio," according to Mrs. Robert D. Sweet who serves as Sierra Madre's volunteer chairman for the Sister Kenny Community Relations Council. "Many adults are patients at the Sister Kenny Polio Hospital in El Monte," continued Mrs. Sweet who also said that 90 per cent of funds raised by the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation in Southern California stay in this area to support the Sister Kenny Polio Hospital and its two out-patient clinics.

"The facilities of the hospital and out-patient clinics are available to any polio patient regardless of race, religion, residence, color, age or financial status," Mrs. Sweet added.

Lee Shippey Honored By More "Quotations"

Lee Shippey, novelist and columnist who has lived in Sierra Madre for 28 years, has added to his laurels by being included in "The Shorter Bartlett's Familiar Quotations" which contains excerpts from 2000 authors, all the way from Aesop to Eisenhower.

Mr. Shippey's first stanza of a poem entitled "Mother" is quoted:

"I love to think her like a blessed candle
"Burning through life's long night,
"Quietly useful, simple,
"gentle, tender,
"And always giving light."

Several other anthologies have quoted this poem which Charles Wakefield Cadman put to music with the title, "Candlelight." Cadman, a composer of opera, was best known for his "Land of the Sky Blue Water."

Shippey has published four novels and five other books. One entitled "Where Nothing Ever Happens" has, often been thought to be a story of Sierra Madre, but although its author says that Sierra Madre was his residence while writing the last half of the book the first half was begun in Del Mar.

His most recent book is called "The Los Angeles Book" and it tells the story of Los Angeles in the mid 1900's. Before that, Shippey received wide recognition for his work entitled "It's An Old California Custom." He believes, however, that his most successful book was "The Great American Family" published in 1938 by Houghton Mifflin.

"The Great American Family" was written into play form in 1940 by Robert Chapin and Charles King. Playing for six weeks at the Pasadena Playhouse, it broke the record there previously established by Eugene O'Neill's "Lazarus Laugh's."

Steven Dave set up the first press in British America at Cambridge, Mass., in 1639.

Pat Lovejoy, a local boy who has the capability of being another great Notre Dame quarterback, was honored recently at the St. Francis team's banquet.

Pat, who proves good things come in small packages by standing around 5' 9", was voted the Most Valuable Player of the season for the St. Francis eleven. For this high distinction, he was given a beautiful gold plated trophy.

Also he was named on the Honorable Mention list of the All-Catholic Conference team.

Pasadena City College Bulldog coach, Mickey Anderson, has asked Pat to come and play for the Gold and Red next year. Pat will then be in the 13th grade. However, "Powerful" Pat isn't sure where he will go to school next year.

He would like to go to Notre Dame in a couple of years, but due to that old financial problem that most of us have, he's not sure whether he'll be able to make it.

It's going to be a big week-end in the basketball world...

Of course the big one on the coast is USC and UCLA battling it out Friday and Saturday nights at that crackerbox they call a gym on the UCLA campus in Westwood. But have no fear, they re-varnished the floor with turtle-wax, and that gives a hard shell finish so you know the boards will stick together this time.

In other contests... Pasadena Nazarene plays Westmont Friday night on the Pasadena court, and on Saturday evening they travel over to Whittier to get beat... The hapless Bulldogs of Pasadena high battles the Fillmore high team on the Bulldog floor Saturday afternoon.

P. S.—Look for USC and UCLA to split their two game series, with the Trojans winning their game by 5 points and the Bruins taking the other contest by 8 digits.

Mapha Club Meeting Monday, Jan. 17th

What Do You Think?

Editors' Note: The opinions expressed in Mr. Shippey's column are not necessarily those of the editors and publishers of the NEWS. If you disagree with Mr. Shippey, who asks, "What Do You Think?", please address your letters to this paper or to Mr. Shippey. It is the intention of The NEWS to stimulate provocative thought and what YOU think is an important part of our program in presenting both sides to public questions of the day. Naturally, we cannot use letters which are abusive or unsigned. We not only invite, but encourage you to use our "Letters to the Editor" column.

Wouldn't it be swell if the new Legislature would give us some effective laws instead of certain phony ones with which it has been fooling us for years? Attorney General Pat Brown urges laws forbidding race tracks and liquor interests from making campaign contributions. They would be more phony laws, meaning nothing. Liquor and race track men could get around them by contributing as individuals, and put candidates under obligations in the same old way.

The one and only way to reduce political corruption is to put effective limits on what may be spent to elect candidates, not only by their own committees but by anyone and everyone, with jail sentences for evasion. To preserve our democracy, those limits must be so low that they will not bar any working man or man of modest means from competition. The law must provide that every piece of literature or broadcast be plainly labeled: "Paid for by So-and-so," with jail sentence for anyone circulating attacks not honestly labeled.

It's as simple as this: So long as it costs so much to elect anyone that large contributions have to be asked, even the best men we elect, regardless of party, must be under obligations to those who put up the money. President Theodore Roosevelt pointed this out in 1907. Richard Neuberger of Oregon has been pointing it out in books and leading magazines for years. So has Paul Douglas of Illinois, and Margaret Chase Smith of Maine is much concerned about it. Yet professional politicians have such horror of drying up any

by
Virginia Pittinger

Nora Mokhtarian is from Iran. Although her name is Armenian and she is a Christian, her family has lived in Moslem Iran for at least 400 years and considers itself thoroughly Iranian. When, in talking with her, I used the name Persia instead of Iran, she corrected me. It was a gentle correction, was none the less firm for that. Because to this young miss, romantic Persia of song and story is finished and present-day Iran, symbol of the oil that gives life to so much modern existence, is taking a proper place in today's world.

Nora's schooling began in an English missionary school in Esphahan and was concluded in Terehan, biggest of Iranian cities. When her education was complete Nora could speak fluently Iranian, Turkish, Armenian and English.

Two years ago she came alone to the United States to study our methods of social welfare. Her interest in this field is not strange when you know that her father works for the Point 4 program in Iran and she, herself, before coming to America, taught for a while in the slum areas of Teheran.

She found the slums crowded with families who had come to the big city to look for better jobs and more money only to find jobs scarce and living conditions appalling. Among these families almost all of the girls and women are completely illiterate. The school in which Nora taught was devoted primarily to teaching these girls to read and write but it also concerned itself with instilling better habits of cleanliness and sanitation and teaching sewing and handwork. Among the girls of nine to sixteen years they found much eagerness to learn and intelligence so keen that some were able to complete six years work in two years.

When the handwork and sewing reached a sufficiently high standard, the school helped the students to market their products and thus ease the terrible poverty of their homes.

Nora is now a pretty, dark-haired co-ed at Pasadena City college. When she finishes there, she will go to UCLA and finally back to Iran to help her people.

She is one of the five students who are coming to Sierra Madre on January 21 to address the P-TA meeting about education in their countries.

Luis Velasco is another. This tall, good-looking young man, who has been here only nine months, came from his home in Bahia, Ecuador, where he finished high school and college to study English and Business Administration.

He finds it a little lonely after life with his mother, father, six sisters and three brothers! When I commented on the size of his family and added that four children are considered a large family here, he laughed.

"In my country it is the usual thing," he said, "eight to ten children. And it is fun because also in my country ladies have help. They do not have all the work to do themselves."

I don't think that he mis-read the gleam in my eye, because he laughed again!

His father is an exporter of cocoa and coffee and Luis will go into business with him on his return to Ecuador.

We talked a little about the politics of his country. The citizens there have a rather strange franchise. The men must vote or pay a fine fixed according to their means, but the women may vote or not as they choose. If they choose not to do so, there is no penalty.

It seemed typical to me of all that I have read about our Mexican and South American neighbors' attitude toward the weaker sex. Respectful enough to grant them a privilege but indulgent enough to withhold the penalty if the privilege is being abused by being ignored.

If I may be forgiven a bit of feminine facetiousness—it sounds like a very comfortable sort of "equal rights."

In 1045 AD the Chinese Pi Cheng made the first movable type from clay.

Exchange Club
Dance Honors
New Officers

The Exchange Club of Sierra Madre installed its new officers at a dinner dance held at Carpenters Restaurant Saturday evening in Arcadia. Member's wives receiving were Mrs. Marshall Mendel, Mrs. Ralph G. Hurwit, Mrs. R. G. Barrett and guest Mrs. Charles E. Louk.

Each lady attending was presented with a white carnation corsage. Esteemed guests of honor for the occasion included the Mayor and Mrs. Charles E. Louk, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cronk of Whittier.

Outgoing President Ralph Burns gave a short resume of the accomplishments of the club during the past six months. It has sponsored a Little League baseball team; diligently helped with the 1954 March of Dimes; built the side shows for the Sierra Madre School Carnival and also helped build and decorate the Sierra Madre float for the Rose Parade.

Mr. Fred Cronk, state treasurer of the Exchange Club and speaker of the evening stressed education and the aims of the Exchange Clubs throughout the nation. The new officers and board of control were sworn in by Mr. Cronk. Arnold Rogstad now holds the gavel of the presidency and Leon Dame is the new vice president. Rudy Lehrens assumes Dr. Donald McCormack's duties as secretary, and James Paschall takes over the treasurer's work from Andrew Liscomb.

Arnold Rogstad's first duty on the new president was to present retiring president Ralph Burns a diamond Exchange Club pin as a token of the club members' extreme gratitude for his service and cooperation during his term of office.

The "Helipot Hot Shots" provided music for the dancing later in the evening.

The year 1955, she believes, may mark the "beginning of the end" of polio if the people of Sierra Madre—a community in which the dread disease has struck more than once—will join others in the nation to promote history's best "March of Dimes" mercy appeal.

"We are at a crossroad in mankind's battle against this horrible cripple with the possibility of a polio vaccine in sight, but we also have the greatest patient-care load in history grimly facing us," she reports.

New Minister Awaited At Congregational

The Rev. George W. Lindsay, now the minister of Christian Education for the Northern California Congregational Conference, has accepted the call to the Congregational Church in Sierra Madre.

The exact time when the new minister will take his position in the local church is not yet known, but it is expected to be some time in March. Further details are to be announced at a later date.

Congregational to Induct New Members

New members will be received into the Congregational Church this coming Sunday following the "Lord's Supper" service which will begin at 11 a.m. The service will include a communion meditation conducted by Rev. Harry P. Leach.

At the business meeting after last Sunday's services, John Spoelstra and George Morgridge were elected to the Discipline Board and the budget for 1955 was approved.

Rev. Robert H. Harper

The Bible, the Source of Christian Teaching

Lesson for January 4 John 20: 31;

Romans 15: 4; II Timothy 3: 14-17;

Hebrews 14: 12; II Peter 1: 16-21

Golden Text: John 20: 31

Returning from Jerusalem, the Ethiopian eunuch, a Jewish proselyte, was sitting in his chariot and reading the 53rd chapter of Isaiah when Philip spoke to him and was invited into the vehicle. There, in response to the eunuch's request for guidance, Philip taught the whole of the Scriptural hope of the coming of the Messiah, and the Ethiopian was so convinced that he asked to be baptized. The incident shows how necessary the Bible is to Christian teaching.

John writes that while many things concerning Jesus are not recorded in his book enough has been written to prove that Jesus is the Christ and that men may have life through his name. And we read in Romans 15: 4 that the things written concerning former times are for our instruction and to bring us hope.

Writing to Timothy, his son in the gospel, Paul reminds the young man of the succession of grace through which he had come and admonished him to be true to the holy writings to which he had been accustomed from childhood. For those writings were able to make wise unto salvation and were profitable for teaching, correction, and instruction in righteousness.

Like a sword, the Bible can pierce to the inmost heart. And the Scriptures are backed by divine authority; they are the words of God that have been given by holy men who wrote as they were moved by the Holy Spirit. So may we find in it the source of our personal life, a lamp unto our feet and a light unto our path.

Woodbridge To be Bethany Guest Jan. 19

Dr. Charles Woodbridge, nationally-known Bible expositor and professor of Church History at Fuller Theological Seminary in Pasadena will be the guest speaker at the Sierra Madre Bethany church this coming Wednesday night, Jan. 19 at 7:30 o'clock. This will be the first in a series of monthly services that will be given over to definite missionary emphasis.

The church conducts a Bible study and prayer meeting each Wednesday night, but Dr. Schaper, pastor of Bethany church, has announced that due to the interest shown both in the Bethany Missionaries and in other foreign work one of these meetings each month will feature a missionary program. Included will be reports, films, letters and messages that will be timely and interesting.

Dr. Woodbridge has just returned from a three-week tour of South America with Jack Wyrzten, director of the Word of Life Youth Rally and radio broadcast of New York City. During this tour intensive sessions of Bible study and evangelistic preaching were conducted in many of the key cities of Brazil and Argentina. These meetings were attended by thousands of nationals as well as many missionaries now on the field. This will be of special interest to the people of Bethany church since they are helping in the support of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Mulhol land, who formerly assisted in the work at Bethany and are now in Brazil as missionaries.

Dr. Schaper has announced as his subject for this Sunday morning a continuation of his message from last Sunday, "Facts About Faith." In addition to a number by the choir there will be a special solo brought by Mr. Earle Anderson.

Christian Science Sermon on "Life"

The life-giving healings accomplished by the Master Christian, Christ Jesus, highlights the Lesson-Sermon on "Life" in all Christian Science churches Sunday.

Luke's Gospel (7:13-15) tells that when Jesus saw the son of the widow of Nain carried out, "he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not. And he came and touched the bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise. And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy writes, "Jesus established what he said by demonstration, thus making his acts of higher importance than his words. He proved what he taught. This is the Science of

Johnsons to Leave "Capital of World"

Mr. and Mrs. Don J. Johnson, in whose opinion Sierra Madre is "The Capital of the World," have expressed their regrets in having to sell their home here after their residence since 1940. Mr. Johnson, a TV specialist for Westinghouse, has been transferred to San Francisco where Mrs. Johnson will join him once their home at 191 E. Laurel is sold. Until then, Mrs. Johnson says she spends as much time as possible gazing at the mountains for "one last look."

The newly married couple expect to leave shortly on a leisurely motor trip through Old Mexico.

ROBERT ORF FAMILY TO LIVE IN BERKELEY

Ranch Wrens are First of Many Clubs Formed in New Hastings Neighborhood

A very few years ago Hastings Ranch was truly a ranch and first residents of the area after its subdivision became well acquainted with wildlife of the foothill area, knew the trials of waiting a year for a telephone and felt strongly the isolation, which decreased proportionately, as more homes were built.

Natural friendliness of the new neighbors took over soon, especially among the women of the Ranch, until now, the well settled community boasts a number of active social and service organizations as well as many small bridge and luncheon groups scattered throughout the Upper and Lower Ranches.

The Ranch Wrens were first to organize, and this organization of women began when there were far more vacant lots than houses. The Coronet section of the Ranch was still a wild area.

Mrs. Thornton McCarthy is this year's president of the Wrens, which has a roster of 33 members. Mrs. Richard Beattie is vice president, Mrs. Donald Berg secretary and Mrs. Kenneth Kaler is treasurer.

Wrens met this week at the home of Mrs. E. J. Barnes, 3755 Hampton, to make final plans for their mid-winter dance, is scheduled Saturday, Jan. 29 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Glynn, 3820 Greenhill.

WRENS' DANCE

Cocktails, dinner and dancing will occupy members and their husbands. Mrs. Raymond Anderson is chairman of the party committee, with assistance from Mrs. James Harris, Mrs. Vera Harding, Mrs. Barrie Davis, Elmer Brown, and Mrs. David Zinsmeyer. Decorations are in the capable hands of Mrs. Robert Roach, chairman; Mrs. Blair Hyde, Mrs. Berg and Mrs. Robert Brumfield.

Members in addition to those already named are Mrs. John Atkinson, Mrs. John Baker, Mrs. Ogden Boden, Mrs. Elmer Brown, Mrs. Dunbar Burdick, Mrs. William Cameron, Mrs. Joseph Cummins, Mrs. William Davis, Mrs. Robert Fleming, Mrs. Edgar H. Flentie, Mrs. C. W. Lambert, Mrs. Ray H. Lindman, Mrs. Robert Meserve, Mrs. E. F. Morton, Mrs. Lee Peterson, Mrs. Philip Shephard, Mrs. W. W. Silliman, Mrs. Robert L. Smallman, Mrs. Ray Stiff, Mrs. Evan Whitlock.

LAS VIENTE VECINAS

Las Viente Vecinas, or Twenty Neighbors, is an organization of 20 women who are enjoying their third year of service and social gatherings. As the Wrens, the group meets once a month, to hear speakers on a variety of subjects. Occasionally the two clubs join for a meeting or party.

Mrs. Barbara Campbell, who has lived in Hawaii, was guest speaker at the January Neighbors meeting at the home of Mrs. James N. Stivers, 3890 Shadow Grove. Mrs. Campbell illustrated her talk with color films which she herself made in the Islands.

Neighbors will join with Wrens for a lecture on the second Tuesday in February and also for a party in April. Mrs. Jennings David is president, with Mrs. Lee Henry as vice president; Mrs. Robert E. Cress, secretary, and Mrs. Stivers, treasurer.

GARDEN CLUB

Hastings Ranch Garden Club is now enjoying its third year of organized study of gardening problems. Formed under the guidance of Mrs. Jay Rimmel, Canfield Rd., Mrs. Rimmel was first president. Presiding this year is Mr. Al Werbelow. The club is restricted to 30 women who reside in the Lower Ranch who are active gardeners.

LAS JARDINERAS

Las Jardineras, feminine plural of "the gardener" is the newest organization in the Ranch and already a very busy one.

Headed by Mrs. Charles Ayres as president, the club of 30 women discusses not only gardening problems, but also aspects of the home. The club will meet Tuesday, Jan. 25 at the home of Mrs. E. S. Gregory, 3610 Greenhill, to hear a prominent young architect, Gene Smith, Los Angeles, talk on the "Landscape of Japan" and discuss the manner in which Southern California indoor-outdoor living is akin to that of Japan. He will show slides he made during a recent trip to Japan.

The club, which staged a highly successful get-acquainted progressive dinner-dancing party in October for members and their husbands, will have their second purely social affair Saturday night. Meeting for cocktails first at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Todd, 3795 Mayfair, the group then will adjourn to the Terrace Room in Arcadia for dancing and a midnight buffet.

NORTHEAST PROPERTY OWNER'S ASSOCIATION

The Northeast Property Owner's Association is made up of the residents of the Upper Ranch. It is headed by Abe A. Becker who is assisted by Russell D. Kraus, Ralph A. Johnston, Donald H. Munro, C. Don Hays, Col. Roy L. Schuyler, and William M. Lawson. The purpose of the association is to represent the Upper Ranch residents as a whole and is financed by a $1.00 membership fee. The most recent project undertaken by the group was the sponsoring of the outside Christmas decoration contest for the Upper Ranch and Riviera. It is the hope of the association that they will, in the future, be joined by the residents in the new Riviera section.

THE HASTINGS RANCH GUILD TO THE PATRICIA LESNICK MEMORIAL FOUNDATION

More than thirty Ranch women have joined this guild to aid in the support of the Patricia Lesnick Memorial Foundation which lends financial aid to research into the treatment of fibrocystic disease. This disease attacks little children and until recently was considered very rare. However, through research it has been found to be rather common and in the past has been diagnosed incorrectly. The local guild was organized by its president, Mrs. Charles R. Harrison, Jr. Other officers are Mrs. Matthew Slavin, III, first vice president; Mrs. Harold W. Leffingwell, second vice president; Mrs. C. Don Hays, secretary; and Mrs. Ernest J. Caldwell, treasurer.

Gala Days Mark Official Opening of Hastings Center

All Stores Participate in Offers of Fun, Prizes and Merchandise Values

The Hastings Center, located at W. Sierra Madre Blvd. and Michillinda Ave., is presenting its formal "Grand Opening" today, tomorrow and Saturday with a three-day celebration featuring fun, prizes, and exceptional merchandising values.

One of the special guests to give zest to the program will be Captain Jet, television star and hero in the minds of many of the younger set. He will be on hand to greet his young fans Friday evening, beginning at 7:15 o'clock.

All the eight stores at Hastings Center are participating in the great shopping event which will also include balloons and carnival-type rides for the youngsters.

The adults, too, will have their share in the bargain program through the special sales and prizes that are being set aside for them.

The eight stores, all of which offer the customer acres of free parking space, are the Shopping Bag, Carrell's Department Store, Britler Laundry and Cleaners, a beauty parlor known as the Harmon Beauty Salon, Pete's Barber Shop, Harold's Shoes, Gerson Shoe Repair, and Hastings Drugs.

Coupons which may be clipped from the front page of Section Two in this week's issue of the NEWS are from the eight stores, which offer many prizes to shoppers without their having to be present at time of drawing to collect. The lucky numbers will be drawn at 5 p.m. on Saturday.

The Grand Prizes are a power mower and a Hercules bicycle. Coupons from all stores make the individual shopper eligible for these awards.

The Shopping Bag, which was the first to erect its building at the Center last July, includes two $20 merchandising orders to the winning coupons from its store, with the exception that no prizes will be collected in the liquor department.

Carrell's Department Store, managed by Lindy Morris, offers a coupon through which the shopper may win a six-piece kitchen set of flint stainless steel valued at $16.95.

Britler Laundry and Cleaners, owned by J. E. Britler, has six separate free cleaning orders for a man's suit or woman's dress to lucky winners through the store's individual coupons.

One permanent wave is offered by Harmon Salon, managed by Tom Malloy, to the winner of the store's individual prize.

Pete Myers, owner of Pete's Barber Shop, offers three separate prizes, valued at $3.50 each — haircut, shampoo, and tonic.

Three free orders for shoe repair will be given by Gerson Shoe Repair, owned by Sam Gerson, to holders of the winning coupons from his store. Each order is valued at $3 and includes 1 pair of half soles and new heels.

Four separate prizes will be given by Harold Peterson, of Harold's Shoe Store. The prizes, going to holders of winning coupons bearing the store's name, include men's, women's, and children's shoes.

The Hastings Drug offers eight individual prizes to winning coupon customers. The store, owned by Clifford Boorey, will give away four pairs of nylon hose and four boxes of chocolates.

Regardless of winning coupon holders, all eight stores at the Hastings Center promise that the shoppers can't lose, considering the many specials offered to all in every store.

Also, in keeping with the current "March of Dimes" campaign against polio, the stores have installed money containers at their check-out counters where shoppers may contribute bits of change to help put an

Hastings Ranch Nursery Provides School For Tots; Social Events for Parents

It was just an idea a couple of years ago — an idea that Hastings Ranch needed a community organization for the mutual benefit of residents of this new neighborhood. It was an idea that we needed to get together to secure the kind of community spirit that we wished for ourselves and for our children to grow up in.

A cooperative school for pre-school age children grew out of the idea, with social events as ways and means projects to help adults get acquainted.

How successful this has proven! The nursery school, now in its second year of operation, is not only running at its capacity of 72 small pupils with three paid teachers and a director, but also has been commended by the State Welfare Board and will be used as an observation school for nursery school teachers in training at UCLA.

And it has proved successful in forming friendships and a community spirit! The school sponsors semi-annual dances, always sell-outs, in the middle of its second annual bridge tournament with many couples throughout the Ranch participating. The school has sponsored homes tours of the area, given swimming parties, bridge parties, fashion show and other social events.

In addition, this year, as a result of recognition by Pasadena City College for a job outstandingly done in a single year of operation, the school offers free a series of monthly adult education lectures by prominent child psychologists.

Trinity Presbyterian Church has made the school a physical reality by allowing use of their Fellowship Hall in the church basement and use of the grounds for play yards.

Untold hours of labor on the parts of mothers and fathers went into getting the school underway, and both parents continue to work in the school, with mothers putting in work days as teacher helpers and fathers helping out on Saturdays as maintenance men.

The school is non-profit. Tuition is charged at the rate of $1.35 for each morning a child is registered for school to help in paying salaries of the staff. But more money is needed for maintenance costs and equipment, which is raised through ways and means projects, which the directors seek to make both profitable for the school and worthwhile for the school's boosters throughout the area.

Among new boosters in

EDWARD EUBANKS FAMILY HAVE PASADENA VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Eubanks, former Valley View residents now living in St. Louis, Mo., and their children, Ellen, Laurie, and David, spent the Christmas holidays with Mrs. Eubank's mother in her Pasadena home.

The area are the new stores recently opened at Sierra Madre and Michillinda. The Sierra Madre NEWS always has been eager to help with space in their news pages and this year again is offering the school a chance to obtain more revenue by selling subscriptions. The NEWS is giving $1.50 to the school for each new subscription obtained and $1.00 for each renewal.

Mrs. Lucille Teasdale is the paid director of the school, and Mrs. Edsel Curry is president of the board of directors. Other directors are Mrs. Joseph H. Cummins, Mrs. Grant D. Brown, William Caldwell, Mrs. Wilton Stewart, Gordon Wright, Mrs. Peter Lubisch, Mrs. Rex Thompson, Mrs. Lewis Ross, Mrs. Caleb McCormick and Mrs. Jake Oberlies.

Field PTA Sponsors Bridge Party Tomorrow

Mothers of children from Eugene Field school will get together Friday, Jan. 14, for a PTA sponsored card party at Michillinda Woman's Club.

Play in bridge and canasta will begin after dessert is served at 1 o'clock. Chairmen for the party are Mrs. Walter Doty and Mrs. Anthony Alfredo.

A door prize will be awarded as well as prizes for high scores in bridge and canasta. An award of $3 will go to the room selling the most tickets and $2 to the runner-up. The price is nominal, only to defray costs of the hall and other expenses. The PTA card parties were inaugurated last year as purely social get-acquainted affairs for the mothers of children in Field.

Patricia Lesnick Memorial Foundation Benefit February 10

The first anniversary of the Patricia Lesnick Memorial Foundation will be marked with a dance at the Palladium, in Hollywood, Thursday, Feb. 10. Harry James and his orchestra will provide the music for the affair. Proceeds from this event will be used in financing the research in fibrocystic disease.

Hinshaw's of Arcadia have been kind enough to donate their weekly TV show, "Assignment America," over station KT TV, channel 11, at 8:30 p.m., the night of the dance to a documentary discussion explaining this disease which in the past has been considered very rare because of erroneous diagnosis.

The Hastings Ranch Guild to the Patricia Lesnick Memorial Foundation will be taking part in this party and selling tickets for $2.50 a couple. It is hoped the Ranch residents will make up individual parties and be in attendance at the Palladium to support this very worthy cause. Further information and tickets may be had by calling the chairman, Mrs. Harold W. Leffingwell, Jr., at Custer 5-3128. Mrs. Charles R. Hardison, Jr., at Custer 5-3129. Mrs. Ralph A. Judd at Custer 5-2161. Mrs. Howard C. Hites at Custer 5-9673, or Mrs. Victor E. Caffee at Custer 5-3107.

Little League Plans To Build New Diamonds

Hastings Ranch Little League, which got a late but very successful start last season, is now looking forward to lots of work as well as enjoyment as members plan to build one and perhaps two diamonds on the junior high school property next to Eugene Field School, before the season opens in May.

Pledges of $1300 were made at a meeting at Field school when parents and others interested in the League met to find ways and means to continue, since adequate diamonds were not available in the area. Tentative permission has been given for use of the school property, and both the Pasadena Park and Recreation departments are offering assistance.

Richard Beattie is president of the League, with Don Wilson, vice president; Ken Pruitt, treasurer and Bob Meserve, secretary. Among many other hard-working men are Al Werbelow, Jim Nichols, Leon Garrie and Jack Atkinson. These are in addition to eight managers, eight coaches and their assistants.

Last year there were four major and four minor teams, and this year more minor teams are expected to be formed if adequate playing fields can be found. Tryouts will be in March, and the playing season will start the middle of May and continue through June and July.

Mr. Beattie said assistance of all kinds is sought from grading of the property to landscaping and necessary equipment. If you are interested in having a part in this project you may contact Mr. Beattie at CU. 5-2349.

Snow Areas Visited By Ranch Residents

Three Tropical Avenue families took advantage of last weekend's "snow weather" to enjoy the winter sports. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Evans, 1260 Tropical, bundled their skis in the car and headed for the "wide slopes yonder." Mr. and Mrs. William K. Shiner, 1200 Tropical, and their children, Chipper, Wendy, and Jimmy, donned their snow togs and enjoyed the snow. Mr. and Mrs. H. Vern Gates, 1225 Tropical, and their children, Jeanne and Jack, left last Friday for a chalet at Lake Gregory with the hope of a snow storm in the offing, and returned Sunday, well satisfied.

Catholic Boys' High In Hastings Studied

The zoning committee of the Pasadena Planning Commission took under submission a proposal to establish a Catholic boys' high school on the southwest corner of Sierra Madre Blvd. and Michillinda, after 58 residents of Canfield Rd. asked that a full investigation of the type of buildings planned be made before a zoning variance is granted.

The 10-acre plot has long been slated for use of the Catholic school, and a variance was obtained several years ago, which expired in 1951. In seeking to have the variance renewed and with a partial plan of use for the property, Catholic spokesmen sought to have Canfield residents sign a petition approving the school.

Instead another petition was signed by residents saying they preferred the property be continued as residential land, but in any case asked "that any future requests from the existing zoning be accompanied by detail plans."

In asking that 30 days be available between request and action so that there would be sufficient time for investigation, Canfield residents said plans should include, in addition to building height and type, also detail plans of grading drainage and landscaping.

The petition pointed out that the school would not be desirable because of loss of city taxes from the property, heavy traffic to be expected, the sharp slope of the property which would necessitate a high retaining wall to cut off the mountain view of Canfield residents, and the fact that a liquor store is already doing business across the street from the suggested site.

Paper Drive Set for Field Youth Groups

Character education groups at Eugene Field school such as Blue Birds and Boy and Girl Scouts, will benefit from a newspaper and rag drive set for Saturday morning, Jan. 15, and sponsored by the PTA.

Profit from the drive will be divided between all such groups at the school, according to their membership. Anyone without children at Field wishing to donate newspapers or rags may leave them on their curb by 10:30 a.m. Saturday and they will be picked up. Field parents are expected to take their donations to the school.
